

Hello Parents,

During this year Virtual Campmeeting, we would like to have some Programs and Activities for your children to do. Unfortunately, we didn't have the resources to develop a stand alone program. So we have gather videos and activities that we hope your children enjoy.

The theme of this week is Creation with an introduction to the Great Controversy. The programs are for Primary and Juniors age children. The program will be a mix of other creation science and nature videos, some story videos and crafts.

For each day you will be give an outline of the media and crafts with the materials needed. You should collect these early so that you will have them on hand when needed. Some of the crafts/experiments will be videos and other instructions sheets with examples.

We understand that this will not be the same as the normal campmeeting, but things haven't been normal this year. Most of the video are found on YouTube and the links will be provided for you in the document so you will only have to click on it bring it up. Most of the videos would be okay for both age levels. If not, notations will be given as to why so you can check them out ahead of time to make that important parental decision.

I have also included some links to Christian videos for your children to watch while you are online for the evening meeting. The biggest problem with the YouTube videos is commercials while watching them. But if you have Netflix, Prime Video or some other video streaming service you may be able to find them there.

The first day of meetings for the adults starts on Tuesday, June 9. The activities will start that same day. Since these children's activities are not live, but a series of activities you will need to review the day's events to see what you will need to help your children with. Older children can connect on the links themselves.
